Hello Paul,

Thanks for the email. We will definitely get you involved in both Blogtrackers and YouTube Trackers.

Please send your handbook to Rick. His email address is richard.a.galeano.mil@mail.mil. He is also involved in the project.

I am also copying our research lab's director, Dr. Agarwal, so he is in the loop as well and can assist.

We'll be in touch,

Katrin

Could you provide a little more information about the requirement for volunteers to trial run your Blogtracker and Youtube tracker. I believe 77X would be interest from two angles, one is our web Ops team who monitor social media but also our Target Audience Analysis analysts. At present we do a lot of work with organisations like the Defence Science Technical Laboratories (DSTL). If possible could you send through any literature which you have produced to help me explain the trial and the software involved.

Katrin on another matter, I have created a handbook for deception, the version shown (picture of front cover) is not sensitive, although it is classed as official sensitive due to one diagram which is over-classified to say the least within a 200 page manual. I cannot send it to a non-military email. But if your husband is involved in this area please feel to pass on my email. This would only be for general concepts etc nothing sensitive.

Hello ONR POs,

The Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) for the FY19 Vannevar Bush Faculty Fellowship competition is now open. It has been posted on grants.gov (Opportunity ID: 306562) at

<https://www.grants.gov/web/grants/search-grants.html?keywords=vbff>

And will be posted on the ONR website under "Explore Funding Opportunities" within a few days.

OSD's Basic Research Office has asked us to bring this funding opportunity to the attention of qualified investigators. Please forward this information to those PIs or other researchers that you consider qualified and competitive. Specifically, OSD is "very happy with the quality of the VB fellows over the years, and are grateful to your program managers for helping us identify outstanding candidates and projects. We are satisfied with the review process and believe it is fair and brings to light the most creative scientists the Department wants to engage with. However, we would like to see a more diverse set of PIs apply this year and into the future. Could you make sure that qualified PIs in your networks in schools without strong central opportunity identification programs are aware of the program and the deadlines?"

Registration with Acqutrak must be completed by 15 Aug 2018. White papers are due 17 Aug 2018. Proposals are due 18 Jan. 2019.

There will be an information webinar on the VBFF program and the current FOA on July 10, 2 PM EDT. The webex information is attached.

At what point can the public use it? With your permission, I might incorporate it into one of my lectures in my data mining class so my students can get blog data for their final projects. Here are the steps to access data from blogtrackers:

1. Login to blogtrackers application (create a login, if you do not have one. It is free!). Here is the link for the tool: <http://blogtrackers.host.ualr.edu/>
2. Set up a tracker by searching for keywords of interest.
3. Go to Data Presentation feature and select "Data Export in JSON"
4. Follow the instruction on Data Export page and voila! you have the data on your local computer. :)

Please let me know if there is any problem with this. We will also do a blogtrackers demo at SBP conference. If you have any questions/comments/suggestions, please do not hesitate to send them our way.

I've already sent my Disneyland paper (attached again for Rebecca's interest), and I'd love to discuss ways to replicate and extend this work using blog-tracker data. My student, Dian Hu, is working on a technique that can be used to elicit situation models from blog text which will be presented at SBP (paper is also attached). I would love to test this technique against blogtracker data too. Looking forward to learning more about the project!

John Boozman (R-AK). Apparently this markup originated in a presentation one of my collaborators made to Boozman's office a year or two ago (the collaborator is a professor at U Arkansas Little Rock), and is intended for AK and "friendly" states, which I think means those with Republican senators, or swing states, or something like that.

Thank you very much for all the interesting insights and advises during the workshop.

I will discuss the upcoming group with my colleagues in the Ministry. My colleague Sanna Silventoinen, who was unfortunately not able to participate in the past course, would be our most likely representative of Finland. We will let you know as soon as possible.

Dear Ms Lankinen,

It was indeed a pleasure working with you at the NATO Strategic Communication COE workshop earlier this month. Thank you for participation. The teaching/research learned a great deal from your inputs and participation. We hope it was useful for you. If you want more information and connection, we'll be on the COE slack team and a listserv is being planned. It will be launched shortly. My Skype handle is bekygoolsby; if you desire follow on presentations or lectures, there are a number of ways we can do that virtually. Feel free to contact us directly. Emails for all the teachers are on the cc line.

In addition, I've attached a draft description (a "TAP") for an upcoming NATO Research Technology Group that is now forming. Sweden is eligible to participate and we would love to have you or one of your colleagues involved. The participating country is required to provide funding for a representative to attend annual meetings and events, and there is a nomination process for this. Finland is eligible to participate. It would be less technical; it will involve the development of workshops, discussions of research and the development of technical demonstrations so that policy, planners, operators and analysts can learn about technology and about cutting edge research.

Please let me know if you'd like more information about this opportunity,
about the class or any other topic.

Subject: Code 34 STEM Program opportunity

Greetings,

We are looking for STEM white papers on topics relevant to Code 34 interest areas including, but not limited to, robotics, training, artificial intelligence, physiology, biology, medicine, etc. These can include outreach events, projects, curriculum development, training opportunities, etc.

Please reach out to your networks to see if anyone is interested in submitting a 1-2 page white paper describing a Code 34 relevant STEM activity they would like to pursue (white paper template and ONR cover page template are attached). We have also attached a power point slide including the relevant details for you to share (Code 34 STEM Program).

The deadline of submitting white papers is August 15th.

Ideally, we are looking for 1-year projects with a TAV of around $50k or less. White papers will be reviewed by the following criteria: addresses a Code 34 area of interest, defines the Naval interest / relevance, proposes a feasible STEM project design, explains the benefits provided to the STEM participants, demonstrates technical capabilities of the proposers, and is an efficient use of Code 34 STEM funds. As we did last year, the white papers will be reviewed and evaluated by a panel of representatives from each Code.

Code 34 STEM Program Objectives:

i. Provide training opportunities to enhance the future S&T workforce in domains relevant to department research areas

ii. Bring awareness of department research areas and programs to the life sciences research community and the public

iii. Augment department programs by providing student training opportunities in support of department funded projects at Naval labs

Rebecca recommended to me that I get in touch with the appropriate Florida senator's office (I'm assuming its Rubio) to emphasize that we are benefiting from this funding at FIU, to increase the probability of it being renewed in the future. She didn't have the details immediately to hand, but said you would know. Slide two: Short teaser about the kinds of stuff you'll be presenting--avoid putting on TJ18 data that's very detailed (as it is going on an app and opsec is a consideration)--but you have good pics that should do the job.

Slide 3: Bio or more info as desired.

Also fill out the bio portion on the app.

Hi Glen, (hi Joni),

I am looking forward to speaking with Rosie next week. For planning purposes could you offer some clarity on this. Is the $2.4 million increase entirely for social network research, i.e., Rebecca's program? If not, how much of that will be earmarked for Rebecca's program? This will help us in developing the grant objectives and activities.

Thanks,
Nitin

If there is anything else you would like me to bring up with her please let me know.

Hi Joni,

Please see below exchange with Rosie. Would you and Nitin be available for a call on Oct 3 with her regarding the social networks program? If Nitin hasn't done so already, it would be good if he talks with Rebecca at ONR between now and then so he can relay what she sees from her side about the status of FY 19 funding. Nitin can also share with Rosie progress on the ONR social networks program from FY 17.

We can shift the date if Oct 3 doesn't work for you and Nitin.

Subject: UALR is excited to see the Defense Conference results

Hi Rosie

We reviewed the FY 19 Defense Appropriations Conference report that came out last week and UALR is excited to see that the final version of the bill included the $2.4 million 'program increase' under Navy RDT&E, and the 'nanotechnology for bone regeneration' listed under the Defense Health Program Congressionally Directed Medical Research. Thanks for all your efforts on these and for Sen. Boozman's support!

After the bill gets signed, I'd like to reconnect with you on the Navy funding. We'll probably need to remind CDR Phillips and the ONR liaison, Tm Henkle, about the congressional intent on social networks. Would you be available in early October for a telecom with Joni Lee and Nitin Agarwal to get an update on discussion with the technical program manager at ONR about FY 19 funding, and to talk about when/how to remind the legislative liaison folks? Would October 3 work for a call?

Also FYI, UALR is very close to signing the contract with Sandia National Labs to start the visualization work with DHS resulting from the FY 18 funding. We hope the contract is signed by the end of Sept. We're close enough that the technical leads from Sandia will visit UALR next week to start technical exchanges on some of the tasks.

We'd still like to coordinate with your office on press announcements and the kick off meeting. We think the kick off meeting will be in mid November. I should be able to send a date to you and Anita after the Sandia visit next week. Would your office like to do a press release before the kick off meeting as soon as the contract is signed? UALR will also talk with Sandia next week about what can be said in a press release. We expect that there will be some restrictions since the work is on border security. Perhaps we can talk about this in early October as well.

Thanks again for all your efforts on the UALR programs the past few months! We recognize that closing out FY 18 while working on FY 19 must have been challenging at times. We appreciate Sen. Boozman's dedication to advancing high priority research initiatives in Arkansas.

Thank you,

Glen

Dear Kathleen and Rebecca,

Here are the 3 sentences for Blogtrackers and YouTubeTracker tools:

Blogtrackers:

Blogtrackers is a socio-computational tool that can be employed to track, monitor, and understand blogs, bloggers, and real-time world events.

Using award-winning social cyber forensics, content analysis, and network analysis capabilities, Blogtrackers enable users to extract insights like key influencers of the blogosphere.

Blogtrackers also allows users to comprehend trends, leading narratives, and conduct sentiment analysis on a wide range of subjects.

YouTubeTracker:

YouTubeTracker helps track, monitor, and identify influential YouTube users, groups, and content.

YouTubeTracker enables users to gain insights into content engagement behaviors, identify manipulative actors, and detect inorganic information activities.

Through visual analytics, YouTubeTracker can help identify trends, opinions, communities, anomalous behaviors such as bots, spam, trolls, among other capabilities.

We are working on the slides and will send them out to you soon.

ToDo items: Rebecca needs 3 sentences per group on - what the tool does and what you will show in the demo. She strongly suggests that you use the trident juncture data and show things vis that as we talked about last week. She thinks more people will come if we focus on how our tools have and can be used at TRJE2018. This one of the 3 sentences should address how you are using your tools for analyzing TRJE data. will be uploaded to the system and accessible through the Ap.

ACTION: Please send the three sentences to her by COB today. (And if you are worried CC me.)

Other material: If you have other presentation or background material that you want the participants to have, just send that to Dr. Goolsby. It will be uploaded to the system and accessible through the Ap.

ACTION: If possible send this material today or tomorrow.

Background - apparently our 5 groups are both part of but distinct from the generic tradeshow and so getting a little bit of extra stuff - hence the call for information.

Other important items - read to end.

NICC:

Tables: Based on what she thinks you all want: She is asking for 2 tables for the 3 US teams to share and a 3rd for Canada. She is asking that all three tables be right together so we can support each other.

Order of presentations: Nitin - you (Kat) and I are getting switched.

Bandwidth: Apparently the WIFI there is horrid. So ... Dr. Goolsby suggests that you get there early and go out and "buy" a local hotspot for demoing your tool. She was told by the organizers to not expect good wifi access.

Arrival:

Rebecca arrives Monday - please send who is coming and when they arrive - so she can coordinate.

Contact: Please email me whom from your team is the contact in terms of email and cell phone number so I can use that to send out messages. It can be more than one person.

My name is Kristen Dickson and I work for the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. I am assisting Gayle Lenard with the three grant vouchers that were submitted in the WAWF System. All three of the grant vouchers are in a submitted status. All three relate to the same award number N00014-17-1-2605. Below are the dates, invoice number, and amount of each grant voucher:

BVNA002 Submitted on January 19, 2018 $72,368.81
BVNA003 Submitted on February 6, 2018 $50,123.97
BVNA004 Submitted on March 16, 2016 $40,505.22

I've attached the SF425 and three SF270 requesting reimbursement for each grant voucher.

Dr. Goolsby - Gayle emailed you on March 13, 2018 and emailed Marlo Ettien on March 28, 2018. Were you able to find out why these are in a submitted status? We have not heard back from Marlo.

As of today, the grant vouchers are still in a submitted status. Could you please let us know if there is anything we need to do to get the grant vouchers out of a submitted status to a process status so we can receive payment?

We would appreciate any information you can provide.

Thanks,

Kristen

Earlier this week, I went to the Legislative Affairs Office here at ONR to inquire about the appropriation we were told would be coming to our program. The Legislative Affairs Officer looked up the appropriation and did not find Arkansas on the list of eligible recipients for this appropriation. Ms. Honigstock investigated further and discovered that Arkansas is in no way eligible for these funds. We were misled and there is no helping the matter.

Hello,

According to the award, we have to send the proceedings with SF298 to 4 different addressees. Can we ship the proceedings in electronic media (CD, USB drive, etc.) to these addressees or does it have to be paper copy of the proceedings?

Thanks,

This monthly reminder is provided to assist the University in identifying overdue reports required under Federal awards. The attached spreadsheet lists expired awards that require the submission of final reports to Atlanta before the award can be closed.

The type of report required is shown in each "Report Needed" column. Blank fields indicate that Atlanta has received the report or that we do not require a copy.

It is of particular importance for the University to promptly fulfill the reporting requirements for awards with overdue reports (generally 90 calendar days after the award expiration date).

I appreciate your assistance in this matter. If you have any questions, please contact:

Nitin,

Great question; you have nothing to worry about. Those figures just mean that we had $1,158,423.50 available now to put on the grant, and the remainder (the future funding) will arrive next fiscal year when we have received more funds. If you have any other questions, let me know!

Kathleen,

Although the total amount on the contract is $2,399,867.00, it says $1,158,423.50 is the amount currently obligated and $1,241,443.50 is future funding. We submitted a budget for $2,399,867.00 and I believe it was approved in entirety. Is there anything we should be concerned about? I just wanted to share this with you and see if it is ok.

Dear Nitin Agarwal,

This email is being provided to update you on the evaluation of your proposal entitled

Social Cybersecurity Research Infrastructure Development: Novel Socio-Computational Methodologies to Model Emerging Cyber-social Threats

The process of issuing an Office of Naval Research (ONR) award involves two major steps,

- (2) negotiation and award by the ONR Acquisition Placement Office.

It is a pleasure to inform you that step (1) has now been completed and that your proposal has been forwarded to the Acquisition Placement Office with the recommendation that it be funded.

You are cautioned that this letter does not comprise a legal commitment and that an official notification of award must be received from the ONR Acquisition Placement Office before funds may legally be obligated under your project.

Could you provide a little more information about the requirement for volunteers to trial run your Blogtracker and Youtube tracker. I believe 77X would be interest from two angles, one is our web Ops team who monitor social media but also our Target Audience Analysis analysts. At present we do a lot of work with organisations like the Defence Science Technical Laboratories (DSTL). If possible could you send through any literature which you have produced to help me explain the trial and the software involved.

Katrin on another matter, I have created a handbook for deception, the version shown (picture of front cover) is not sensitive, although it is classed as official sensitive due to one diagram which is over-classified to say the least within a 200 page manual. I cannot send it to a non-military email. But if your husband is involved in this area please feel to pass on my email. This would only be for general concepts etc nothing sensitive.

Hello ONR POs,

The Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) for the FY19 Vannevar Bush Faculty Fellowship competition is now open. It has been posted on grants.gov (Opportunity ID: 306562) at

<https://www.grants.gov/web/grants/search-grants.html?keywords=vbff>

And will be posted on the ONR website under "Explore Funding Opportunities" within a few days.

OSD's Basic Research Office has asked us to bring this funding opportunity to the attention of qualified investigators. Please forward this information to those PIs or other researchers that you consider qualified and competitive. Specifically, OSD is "very happy with the quality of the VB fellows over the years, and are grateful to your program managers for helping us identify outstanding candidates and projects. We are satisfied with the review process and believe it is fair and brings to light the most creative scientists the Department wants to engage with. However, we would like to see a more diverse set of PIs apply this year and into the future. Could you make sure that qualified PIs in your networks in schools without strong central opportunity identification programs are aware of the program and the deadlines?"

Registration with Acqutrak must be completed by 15 Aug 2018. White papers are due 17 Aug 2018. Proposals are due 18 Jan. 2019.

There will be an information webinar on the VBFF program and the current FOA on July 10, 2 PM EDT. The webex information is attached.

At what point can the public use it? With your permission, I might incorporate it into one of my lectures in my data mining class so my students can get blog data for their final projects. My graduate student, Dian Hu (who will be at SBP) has already used it to collect a larger vaccine dataset and is happily parsing through it. Many thanks for this resource!

Here are the steps to access data from blogtrackers:

1. Login to blogtrackers application (create a login, if you do not have one. It is free!). Here is the link for the tool: <http://blogtrackers.host.ualr.edu/>
2. Set up a tracker by searching for keywords of interest.
3. Go to Data Presentation feature and select "Data Export in JSON"
4. Follow the instruction on Data Export page and voila! you have the data on your local computer. :)

Please let me know if there is any problem with this. We will also do a blogtrackers demo at SBP conference. If you have any questions/comments/suggestions, please do not hesitate to send them our way.

I've already sent my Disneyland paper (attached again for Rebecca's interest), and I'd love to discuss ways to replicate and extend this work using blog-tracker data. My student, Dian Hu, is working on a technique that can be used to elicit situation models from blog text which will be presented at SBP (paper is also attached). I would love to test this technique against blogtracker data too. Looking forward to learning more about the project!

Thank you very much for all the interesting insights and advises during the workshop.

I will discuss the upcoming group with my colleagues in the Ministry. My colleague Sanna Silventoinen, who was unfortunately not able to participate in the past course, would be our most likely representative of Finland. We will let you know as soon as possible.

Dear Ms Lankinen,

It was indeed a pleasure working with you at the NATO Strategic Communication COE workshop earlier this month. Thank you for participation. The teaching/research learned a great deal from your inputs and participation. We hope it was useful for you. If you want more information and connection, we'll be on the COE slack team and a listserv is being planned. It will be launched shortly. My Skype handle is bekygoolsby; if you desire follow on presentations or lectures, there are a number of ways we can do that virtually. Feel free to contact us directly. Emails for all the teachers are on the cc line.

In addition, I've attached a draft description (a "TAP") for an upcoming NATO Research Technology Group that is now forming. Sweden is eligible to participate and we would love to have you or one of your colleagues involved. The participating country is required to provide funding for a representative to attend annual meetings and events, and there is a nomination process for this. Finland is eligible to participate. It would be less technical; it will involve the development of workshops, discussions of research and the development of technical demonstrations so that policy, planners, operators and analysts can learn about technology and about cutting edge research.

Please let me know if you'd like more information about this opportunity,
about the class or any other topic.

Very respectfully,

Subject: Code 34 STEM Program opportunity

Greetings,

We are looking for STEM white papers on topics relevant to Code 34 interest areas including, but not limited to, robotics, training, artificial intelligence, physiology, biology, medicine, etc. These can include outreach events, projects, curriculum development, training opportunities, etc.

Please reach out to your networks to see if anyone is interested in submitting a 1-2 page white paper describing a Code 34 relevant STEM activity they would like to pursue (white paper template and ONR cover page template are attached). We have also attached a power point slide including the relevant details for you to share (Code 34 STEM Program).

The deadline of submitting white papers is August 15th.

Ideally, we are looking for 1-year projects with a TAV of around $50k or less. White papers will be reviewed by the following criteria: addresses a Code 34 area of interest, defines the Naval interest / relevance, proposes a feasible STEM project design, explains the benefits provided to the STEM participants, demonstrates technical capabilities of the proposers, and is an efficient use of Code 34 STEM funds. As we did last year, the white papers will be reviewed and evaluated by a panel of representatives from each Code.

Code 34 STEM Program Objectives:

i. Provide training opportunities to enhance the future S&T workforce in domains relevant to department research areas

ii. Bring awareness of department research areas and programs to the life sciences research community and the public

iii. Augment department programs by providing student training opportunities in support of department funded projects at Naval labs

Rebecca recommended to me that I get in touch with the appropriate Florida senator's office (I'm assuming its Rubio) to emphasize that we are benefiting from this funding at FIU, to increase the probability of it being renewed in the future. She didn't have the details immediately to hand, but said you would know. Can you share what you know about which bill and when it was passed, so I can look up the details to share with FIU's political Slide one: expanded description of tool and demo with pretty picture.

Slide two: Short teaser about the kinds of stuff you'll be presenting--avoid putting on TJ18 data that's very detailed (as it is going on an app and opsec is a consideration)--but you have good pics that should do the job.

Slide 3: Bio or more info as desired.

Also fill out the bio portion on the app.

Hi Glen, (hi Joni),

I am looking forward to speaking with Rosie next week. For planning purposes could you offer some clarity on this. Is the $2.4 million increase entirely for social network research, i.e., Rebecca's program? If not, how much of that will be earmarked for Rebecca's program? This will help us in developing the grant objectives and activities.

Thanks,
Nitin

If there is anything else you would like me to bring up with her please let me know.

Hi Joni,

Please see below exchange with Rosie. Would you and Nitin be available for a call on Oct 3 with her regarding the social networks program? If Nitin hasn't done so already, it would be good if he talks with Rebecca at ONR between now and then so he can relay what she sees from her side about the status of FY 19 funding. Nitin can also share with Rosie progress on the ONR social networks program from FY 17.

We can shift the date if Oct 3 doesn't work for you and Nitin.

Subject: UALR is excited to see the Defense Conference results

Hi Rosie

We reviewed the FY 19 Defense Appropriations Conference report that came out last week and UALR is excited to see that the final version of the bill included the $2.4 million 'program increase' under Navy RDT&E, and the 'nanotechnology for bone regeneration' listed under the Defense Health Program Congressionally Directed Medical Research. Thanks for all your efforts on these and for Sen. Boozman's support!

After the bill gets signed, I'd like to reconnect with you on the Navy funding. We'll probably need to remind CDR Phillips and the ONR liaison, Tm Henkle, about the congressional intent on social networks. Would you be available in early October for a telecom with Joni Lee and Nitin Agarwal to get an update on discussion with the technical program manager at ONR about FY 19 funding, and to talk about when/how to remind the legislative liaison folks? Would October 3 work for a call?

Also FYI, UALR is very close to signing the contract with Sandia National Labs to start the visualization work with DHS resulting from the FY 18 funding. We hope the contract is signed by the end of Sept. We're close enough that the technical leads from Sandia will visit UALR next week to start technical exchanges on some of the tasks.

We'd still like to coordinate with your office on press announcements and the kick off meeting. We think the kick off meeting will be in mid November. I should be able to send a date to you and Anita after the Sandia visit next week. Would your office like to do a press release before the kick off meeting as soon as the contract is signed? UALR will also talk with Sandia next week about what can be said in a press release. We expect that there will be some restrictions since the work is on border security. Perhaps we can talk about this in early October as well.

Thanks again for all your efforts on the UALR programs the past few months! We recognize that closing out FY 18 while working on FY 19 must have been challenging at times. We appreciate Sen. Boozman's dedication to advancing high priority research initiatives in Arkansas.

Thank you,

Glen

Dear Kathleen and Rebecca,

Here are the 3 sentences for Blogtrackers and YouTubeTracker tools:

Blogtrackers:

Blogtrackers is a socio-computational tool that can be employed to track, monitor, and understand blogs, bloggers, and real-time world events.

Using award-winning social cyber forensics, content analysis, and network analysis capabilities, Blogtrackers enable users to extract insights like key influencers of the blogosphere.

Blogtrackers also allows users to comprehend trends, leading narratives, and conduct sentiment analysis on a wide range of subjects.

YouTubeTracker:

YouTubeTracker helps track, monitor, and identify influential YouTube users, groups, and content.

YouTubeTracker enables users to gain insights into content engagement behaviors, identify manipulative actors, and detect inorganic information activities.

Through visual analytics, YouTubeTracker can help identify trends, opinions, communities, anomalous behaviors such as bots, spam, trolls, among other capabilities.

We are working on the slides and will send them out to you soon.

ToDo items: Rebecca needs 3 sentences per group on - what the tool does and what you will show in the demo. She strongly suggests that you use the trident juncture data and show things vis that as we talked about last week. She thinks more people will come if we focus on how our tools have and can be used at TRJE2018. This one of the 3 sentences should address how you are using your tools for analyzing TRJE data. will be uploaded to the system and accessible through the Ap. ACTION: Please send the three sentences to her by COB today. (And if you are worried CC me.)

Other material: If you have other presentation or background material that you want the participants to have, just send that to Dr. Goolsby. It will be uploaded to the system and accessible through the Ap.

ACTION: If possible send this material today or tomorrow.

Background - apparently our 5 groups are both part of but distinct from the generic tradeshow and so getting a little bit of extra stuff - hence the call for information.

Other important items - read to end.

NICC:

Tables: Based on what she thinks you all want: She is asking for 2 tables for the 3 US teams to share and a 3rd for Canada. She is asking that all three tables be right together so we can support each other.

Order of presentations: Nitin - you (Kat) and I are getting switched.

Bandwidth: Apparently the WIFI there is horrid. So ... Dr. Goolsby suggests that you get there early and go out and "buy" a local hotspot for demoing your tool. She was told by the organizers to not expect good wifi access.

Arrival:

Rebecca arrives Monday - please send who is coming and when they arrive - so she can coordinate.

Contact: Please email me whom from your team is the contact in terms of email and cell phone number so I can use that to send out messages. It can be more than one person.

My name is Kristen Dickson and I work for the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. I am assisting Gayle Lenard with the three grant vouchers that were submitted in the WAWF System. All three of the grant vouchers are in a submitted status. All three relate to the same award number N00014-17-1-2605. Below are the dates, invoice number, and amount of each grant voucher:

BVNA002 Submitted on January 19, 2018 $72,368.81
BVNA003 Submitted on February 6, 2018 $50,123.97
BVNA004 Submitted on March 16, 2016 $40,505.22

I've attached the SF425 and three SF270 requesting reimbursement for each grant voucher.

Dr. Goolsby - Gayle emailed you on March 13, 2018 and emailed Marlo Ettien on March 28, 2018. Were you able to find out why these are in a submitted status? We have not heard back from Marlo.

As of today, the grant vouchers are still in a submitted status. Could you please let us know if there is anything we need to do to get the grant vouchers out of a submitted status to a process status so we can receive payment?

We would appreciate any information you can provide.

Thanks,

Kristen

Earlier this week, I went to the Legislative Affairs Office here at ONR to inquire about the appropriation we were told would be coming to our program. The Legislative Affairs Officer looked up the appropriation and did not find Arkansas on the list of eligible recipients for this appropriation. Ms. Honigstock investigated further and discovered that Arkansas is in no way eligible for these funds. We were misled and there is no helping the matter.

Hello,

According to the award, we have to send the proceedings with SF298 to 4 different addressees. Can we ship the proceedings in electronic media (CD, USB drive, etc.) to these addressees or does it have to be paper copy of the proceedings?

Thanks,

Kristen

This monthly reminder is provided to assist the University in identifying overdue reports required under Federal awards. The attached spreadsheet lists expired awards that require the submission of final reports to Atlanta before the award can be closed.

The type of report required is shown in each "Report Needed" column. Blank fields indicate that Atlanta has received the report or that we do not require a copy.

It is of particular importance for the University to promptly fulfill the reporting requirements for awards with overdue reports (generally 90 calendar days after the award expiration date).

I appreciate your assistance in this matter. If you have any questions, please contact:

Nitin,

Great question; you have nothing to worry about. Those figures just mean that we had $1,158,423.50 available now to put on the grant, and the remainder (the future funding) will arrive next fiscal year when we have received more funds. If you have any other questions, let me know!

Kathleen,

Although the total amount on the contract is $2,399,867.00, it says $1,158,423.50 is the amount currently obligated and $1,241,443.50 is future funding. We submitted a budget for $2,399,867.00 and I believe it was approved in entirety. Is there anything we should be concerned about? I just wanted to share this with you and see if it is ok.

Dear Nitin Agarwal,

This email is being provided to update you on the evaluation of your proposal entitled

Social Cybersecurity Research Infrastructure Development: Novel Socio-Computational Methodologies to Model Emerging Cyber-social Threats

The process of issuing an Office of Naval Research (ONR) award involves two major steps,

- (1) evaluation and recommendation to fund by ONR Science & Technology Directorate, and
- (2) negotiation and award by the ONR Acquisition Placement Office.

It is a pleasure to inform you that step (1) has now been completed and that your proposal has been forwarded to the Acquisition Placement Office with the recommendation that it be funded.

You are cautioned that this letter does not comprise a legal commitment and that an official notification of award must be received from the ONR Acquisition Placement Office before funds may legally be obligated under your project.

Should you have further questions regarding the status of your proposal you may contact me at
